

THE HERALD.

WILLIAM MILLIKAN, Editor.

Washington, Ohio:

THURSDAY, - NOV. 6, 1892.

Fifth Volume of the Herald.

After the issue of three numbers more the 4th volume of the Herald will be completed. We hope that the friends of a good and true Union Paper published in our own county, will take some pains to procure a few hundred additional subscribers to the Herald. It should have a larger circulation, and if the party whose principles it zealously advocates, desire to have a paper to advocate their principles, they should most certainly give it a more liberal circulation. We call upon our political friends now, to give us a goodly number of additional subscribers on the commencement of the 5th volume of the Herald. The Union party have the majority in this county, and there is no reason why a Union paper in Fayette County should not have a much larger circulation than we have. Friends, will you take a little pains in your neighborhoods and procure the names of additional subscribers and send in to us to commence the new volume with?

Court.—The Court of Common Pleas for this county is now in session. Judge Dickey on the Bench. In consequence of the absence of the Judge, Court was not opened until yesterday afternoon. Judge Briggs is holding Court at Circleville.

Our readers will find two letters from our army correspondents, on the first page of this paper, one from Lovejoy, and one from Typo.

If a stranger were to judge (as he naturally would,) from the dilapidated condition of the capitol and the numerous missing panes of glass in our green old Court House, he would come to the conclusion that justice was on the wane in Fayette County. It would cost but little to have these breaches repaired, and it certainly would save the county the loss of some credit.

Gov. Tod calls upon the people of this State to observe Thursday the 27th inst., as a day of "praise, thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God!"

His Proclamation will be found in this day's paper.

The City Council of Cleveland have resolved to issue $50,000 of City orders in fractional parts of a dollar, to be redeemed in currency on presentation of the amount of one dollar. This is done in order to supply the absence of silver change. The amount of orders are never to exceed the amount of otherwise unappropriated funds in the City Treasury. The small change has been gathered up by speculators who have undertaken to monopolize, but if the example of the Clevelanders should be adopted by the cities, these speculators may find but little sale for their change, at villainously high prices. They can't hold it unless it will pay them a high rate of exchange.

In the slave State of Maryland, a certain class of politicians tell us, that in consequence of the President's Emancipation Proclamation, and the effect the war has had on the institution of slavery, these slaves have become saucy, and their ideas of becoming free have made them too lazy to work for their masters for nothing, and that white hired labor is superceding slave labor.

In Ohio, politicians professing pro-slavery principles tell us, and try to frighten Irish laborers with their stories, that the negroes are all coming North, and that white laborers are being discharged from good situations to give place to negro laborers who have been freed by Lincoln's abolition armies. Our Irish citizens have one thing to console them, and that is, if the negroes when set free are too lazy to work, they won't be very strong competitors for the labor now performed by white men, and if they will do less labor when free than when slaves, there will be a deficiency of labor to the amount of the slave labor that is withdrawn, to be supplied, how is it to be done? Assuming, as we are gravely told by Democratic politicians, that liberated slaves won't work, will the fact, if it be a fact, that they won't labor, lessen the demand for laborers? If it does not, common sense teaches every body that there will be an increased demand for the services of those who are industrious and will work, equal to the amount of labor withdrawn from the country by the emancipation or liberation of the slaves. It is a new kind of Arithmetic, that our Democratic friends have recently gotten up, which teaches that to withdraw a quart, of the laborers from the country, increases the number of competitors for labor.

To HERMANS.—Every husband having regard to his wife's health and comfort, should have no time in getting one of the "Adams Sewing Machine" for her. Write to C. Rogers, Detroit, Michigan, and get full particulars.

The man who is afraid that some dirty rebel sympathizer will call him an Abolitionist, if he supports the government in its efforts to put down the Southern rebellion, is too great a coward to fight for his country in any event. We have noticed that those who are continually prating about Abolitionists and nigger war, never take up arms to defend the government from being destroyed by its pro-slavery enemies. Show us a Southern rebel, or a sympathizer, with the rebellion, and we will show you a rank pro-slavery man, every time. "That's what's the matter."

Our Democratic neighbor's extreme modesty on political subjects, or upon matters connected with our Union army, probably prevented him from calling the attention of his readers to a couple of articles on the first page of his last issue. One of the said articles is from a correspondent of the Chicago Times, a rebel sympathizing paper, and the other is headed "gone to the dogs at last," and is a letter from the rebel Thomas A. R. Nelson. The spirit of these articles unquestionably accords with the sentiments of the editor of the Register, or he would doubtless have palmed over them, as a kind of salvo for their publication, the word "Advertised," as he is in the habit of doing, when he publishes articles by request of political opponents. Of course we have no objections to his using the term, but really we do think our Republican friends should never place the modest (?) editor of the Register in a position by which, in order to keep on the sunny side of his Democratic associates, he is put under the necessity of using the politer term "advertised," over political communications. It's all wrong to place an editor who professes to be neutral, (especially on the Republican side of the question) in such an agonizing position. We hope our Republican friends will never do it again.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—The Columbus correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says:

A young lawyer of your city, who has been recruiting an infantry company, sold himself as a substitute for a drafted man, deluding himself with the idea that the aim pocketed was so much clear gain, not deeming that he was damaging his prospects for wearing shoulder straps. Gov. Tod, on learning the circumstances, promptly revoked his commission, and he now goes into the ranks as a private.

Disasters on Lake Erie.

BUFFALO, Nov. 4.—Among the accidents caused by the recent storm, the following are reported:

The schooner Chief Justice Marshall is ashore between Bainston and Dunkirk. The crew are all lost.

The schooner Post Boy is ashore above Dunkirk, crew saved.

A dispatch from State Line says the schooner Bugle of Buffalo is ashore here and a total wreck. The crew are all lost.

Three were washed ashore.

The schooner E. C. Williams is also wrecked. A part of the crew are saved.

The Captain of the propeller Water Witch, reports seeing the upper works of a propeller off Gravelly Bank this morning. He thinks it belonged to the propeller California, but is not certain.

Wisconsin Election.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 4.—The election in the State was hotly contested by both parties. The city and county of Milwaukee will give Brown, Democrat, forty-seven hundred majority over John F. Potter, Republican. Kerosha county probably four hundred and fifty for Potter. Seven towns in Walworth county give Potter some eight hundred majority. Friends of Brown claim his election without doubt, but Republicans think the returns from the balance of the district, and the soldiers' vote, may elect Potter.

New York Election.

BUFFALO, Nov. 4.—The result of the election in this State is not yet ascertained. Indications are that the Democrats have a large majority for Seymour in New York City and have elected a large number of Congressmen, probably including the two Woods.

New York, Nov. 4.—Midnight.—Over two hundred towns heard from show Wallworth's majority outside of New York and Brooklyn 11,000. State probably gone Democratic by 15,000 majority.

Massachusetts Election.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—News.—The State election is progressing quietly in this city, with indications of a large vote for the Union ticket. At this hour the result stands for Governor, Andrew, 2,108; Brigadier-General Devins, 2,133. In the Third Congressional District, Rice is about 1,200 ahead of Sleeper.

New York, Nov. 4.—It is said that Rice, Republican for Congress, in Boston, is defeated.

Illinois Election.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4.—The election has passed off very quietly. The returns of the city are yet incomplete, and nothing definite can be ascertained. The vote in the 6th, 7th, 8th and 10th wards stands: Blair, 1,330; Knox (Radical Republican), 1,354; Bogey (Dem.), 932.

Cairo, Nov. 4.—Advices from Holly Springs to Wednesday say that large reinforcements from Texas and Louisiana are pouring in.

There has been no movement of the rebel troops from that place except Villipigne's brigade to Meridian.

The people of Hernando are said to be moving their slaves and other property into the interior.

The Grenada Appeal says Judge John O. Campbell is appointed Assistant Secretary of War of the Confederacy, vice Professor Bledsoe, resigned.

The Federal forces at Island No. 10, have again occupied the Tennessee shore, and are now constructing a Fort under the protection of the Federal gunboats.

A dispatch from Jackson, Tennessee, of the 2d, says: News received at Grant's headquarters yesterday, from the South, via Risieri, confirms the capture of Mobile.

POSTAGE CURRENCY.—Collector Carson will commence the distribution of postage currency at three o'clock this P. M., in sums of $5 to each applicant, who must be provided with United States money to that amount. Larger bills will not be received, nor will currency be paid out to boys.—Cin. Gaz.

MARRIED.

On the 30th ult., at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. S. J. Miller, Mr. L. V. ISOLDER, and Miss J. E. PARRETT.

Written on the Death of Annie M. Boyd.

BY LISA E. PARRETT.

Farwell, sweet Annie! thou art gone!
Thy form is cold in death;
Gone called in a low, sweet tone,
Which leads to cease thy breath.
We went, as we beside the pall
Behold her lifeless clay.
To think that she so soon made,
And like the rose—soonest fade.

We miss her at the morning hour,
When all without seems gay;
When in fair Nature's gorgeous tower
The lark chants its sweet lay.
We lack that she was sweet and warm
With suffering, and pain;
But Oh! before the early morn
Death broke the happy chain.

We miss her at the close of day,
As even shades appear;
For then all Nature seems to say,
"Where art thou, Annie dear?"
Her fond presence weep that she is gone,
And stricken is each heart;
For all things now seem drear and lone,
Since they have lost her part.

Now she sleeps mid the silent dead,
"Ninth under grassy mound,
With a rich garden round her head
If gems that angel be found.
We would not call her back to life;
We know with her his will,
Free now from sorrow, care and strife,
Annie, sweet child, farwell.

DIED.

October 9th, 1892, Dora May, daughter of J. E. and Matilda Ryan, aged two years, seven months and one day.

Farwell, little loved one, thy spirit is gone
To dwell with the Angels in Heaven;
They loved thee, sweet child, but loved thee
Too well;
They carried thee home in their presence to dwell.

We called thee our "angel," our tender "May flower,"
For thy presence made cheerful the loneliest hour.
But hush! one tenderly whispered away
And bore thy sweet spirit to the realm of day.

Dear "Dora," our lost one, we grieve for thee here,
O, we miss thy sweet smiles, and drop the
And tear.
O'er thy grave, as we fondly and lingeringly stand
By the spot now so sacred to our little band.
Yet, why should we weep on thy so happy art thou?
And fadeless the wreath on thy pure white brow?

We know that sweet Seraph in Heaven above
Encircles thee round with a radiance of love.
E. L.*

DIED.

In this village, on Friday evening last, of consumption, Captain John H. Roussor, of Co. A, 1st Regiment Ohio Cavalry.

His remains were followed to the new Seminary on Sunday afternoon, last, by a large procession of relatives and friends.

THOSE OVERCOATS.

The friends of the brave boys of Company C, commanded by the late Capt. C. A. White, 54th Regiment, are requested to return the overcoats belonging to those now in said company, as I have orders from them to ship them back to them. Please return them without delay.

DANIEL PAVEY, Adm.

September 4th, 1892. [40-3w.]

Read the following from the Hon. Morris Morris formerly Auditor of the State of Indiana:

Tested and sworn, September 2, 1892.

D. C. W. ROSSER—Dear Sir: Having been troubled for several years with extreme debility and weakness, so much so that I was unable to attend to my ordinary business, and having heard of the wonderful cures that your Scanlon's Blood Purifier and Pills were effecting, I was induced by a friend to try them. I have been using the purifier for the last twelve months, and find the medicine fully equal to its recommendation. So valuable is its use to me, that I cannot now dispense with the use of it in my advanced age of life—seventy-seven years.

I cheerfully give this information for the benefit of those similarly affected.

Yours, truly,
MORRIS MORRIS.
